

Dr. Annabelle Volgman
Associate Professor of Medicine
Medical Director, Heart Center for Women
Department of Cardiology
Rush University Medical Center

Dr. Annabelle Santos Volgman is a board certified cardiologist at Rush University Medical Center. She graduated with honors from Barnard College, Columbia University. She received her medical degree from Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons in New York City. Her post graduate training includes an Internal Medicine Residency at University of Chicago Hospitals and Clinics and a Fellowship in Cardiology and Clinical Cardiac Electrophysiology at Northwestern Memorial Hospital. She has been board certified in Internal Medicine, Cardiovascular Diseases and Clinical Cardiac Electrophysiology.

She has been an attending cardiologist at Rush University Medical Center since 1990 and founded the Rush Heart Center for Women in 2003. She has written numerous articles in major Cardiology journals, participated in many national and international studies. She has received numerous awards from Rush University Medical Center, American Heart Association and is in Castle Connolly's List of America's Top Doctors. She was also named a Chicago Magazine Top Doctor in January 2008 and was recognized as one of America's Top Doctors for Women in the November 2008 Women's Health Magazine. She has been featured in multiple magazine articles and is frequently interviewed by the media of print, radio and television. She is currently the President of the American Heart Association Chicago Metro Board.